PREFACE.

HE greatest Part of the preceding Volume of this Work contains Observations taken from the best MSS. and Authorities relating to Families, and upon that account 'tis prefer'd to any of the other Volumes by Several Persons, eminent for Learning and Judgment; and Sir WILLIAM DUGDALE found it of more service to him in compiling his great Work of the Baronage of England than either of the Parts he had consulted of the Itinerary, as appears from the frequent Quotations from it in the Margin. Nor are the Additions to that Volume, which were written by two very learned Gentlemen, of less Esteem amongst the most impartial and knowing Persons in these Studies, especially such as joyn Natural History to Antiquities, and carry the Study of Antiquities beyond the Norman Conquest. The Essay about the Four Great Ways is the first that I know of that hath been written professedly upon the Subject. The Author had good reason to believe that most of the Stations mention'd in Antoninus's Itinerary were to be difcover'd on, or near, these four Great Military Ways, which are fo often, but very uncertainly, mention'd by our English Historians; and this induc'd him to leave no means unattempted to trace their several Courses thro' this Isle as far as they went; and to that End he made all the Collections and Inquiries he could after them, which he reduc'd into the Difcourse I have publish'd, that hath met with due Approbation from the best Antiquaries. It were to be wish'd that Mr. Leland had continu'd his Observations about Families with the same Diligence he hath observed in that and in the first Part of the Fourth Volume, and that other Gentlemen, that have Opportunities and Abilities, would be as inquisitive as the Excellent Author of the Essay about such Roman Antiquities as would illustrate Antoninus, and clear divers Difficulties in later Writers.

But the Mr. Leland did not prosecute what he had so well begun in the Fourth and Sixth Volume of the Itinerary (at least it does not appear from what is left that he did so) yet the Remarks upon that Subject in the other Volumes, notwithstanding oftentimes shorter and less particular, are curious, and excellent, and of great Weight and Authority, and this Seventh Vo-lume exceeds the Sixth, and in some respects any of those that have been yet publish'd, in the Accounts of Places, being more compleat and exact in divers Instances, the in others more fuccinct and imperfect, especially in the most Northern Parts of England, where the Author does not feem to have taken fo much Pains as he did in the Western, and North-Western Parts, whither he went several times, which is the occasion of some Repetitions. What also advances the value of this Vo-lume, is an Appendix that I have extracted from the Third Tome of Mr. Leland's Collectanea. Tho' I design to print the three first Tomes of the Collectanea hereafter, (for the Publication of the Fourth Tome is the Province of another Person, which therefore I am unwilling to break into, and an Edition of it is intended by the Reverend and Learned Dr. TAN-NER Chancellor of Norwich, together with Boston of Bury, and other most accurate Improvements) yet since the Extracts I have made belong plainly to the Itinerary, I thought it became me to publish them as a Part of it, and I hope that the Reader will not think I have been guilty of any Ablurdity in the Conduct.

In pag. 129. of this Appendix the Reader will find a a rude

Name than that of London occurring in this Sketch, I took it to be defign'd for nothing else than that City; and I look'd upon the several Distinctions to be Marks of the several Divisions of it, which the Author would have improv'd and reduc'd into a regular, beautiful Order had he liv'd to have publish'd what he had in View for the Honour of this Place. But 'tis likely I am mistaken in my Opinion. For I find that a learned and candid Gentleman, who is one of the Encouragers of this Work, namely Peter Le Neve Esq; Norroy K. at Arms, is pleas'd to think otherwise of it, and I am unwilling to dissent from so worthy a Person, who is known to be very well and disagreeable Sketch of London, which I have represented just as 'tis put down by the Author's own Hand. I should have wholly omitted this barbarous and unaccurate Figure, but that I thought 'twould be an Argument that Mr. Leland designed to have given us not only a Map or Plan of London (which was the Place of his Nativity) as 'twas in his time, but that he withal intended to have described it at large; and 'tis very probable that he made copious Collections upon the Subject, and that Mr. Stowe had a Copy of them always before him well vers'd in these Affairs. I have not the honour of being personally acquainted with him, and shall therefore take this opportunity of returning him my thanks in this public manner for being so kind as to communicate to me his Thoughts about this Affair, which I shall here beg leave to represent in his own Words as they were transmitted to me in the Letter he sent me in April last.

College of Arms, London 25. of April 1712.

SIR,

I have read with great delight the feveral Volumes of Mr. Leland's Itinerary, and no less pleasure I took in your learned Prefaces and the Discourses before and after those Volumes. I beg leave to give you my thoughts of that Sketch drawn in the 129th. page of the Appendix to the seventh Volume, which I guess Mr. Leland designed for the Courses of the River Thames from London to the Sea, and of the Medwey from Rochester or Maidstone in Kent to the Isles of Thanet, Greyne, and the rest at the Mouths of those two Rivers. For the learned Person in that and some of the pages before and after discourseth of these Rivers and Islands. The Place where London is writ agrees well enough with the Situation thereof on the River of Thames, and if either Rochester or Maidstone had been writ by him at the end of either of the lower Sketches he would not have been much out in placing them, in relation to their Situation from London. The Sketch is, as you are pleased to say, rude, but it will better answer this interpretation, than that of being defigned for only London, of which it hath, as I humbly conceive, no manner of refemblance. This I humbly fubmit to your better judgement, as the thoughts of, Sir,

Your most humble Servant,

Peter Le Neve Norroy.

when he was writing and drawing up his Survey of London, in which Mr. Leland is sometimes quoted by him, but without Reference to any particular Part of his Papers. Were these Papers now remaining, we might perhaps by the Help of them illustrate divers Antiquities belonging to London that Mr. Stowe thought fit to omitt, and give an Account of some Curiofities dug up and discover'd in and near that great City in the Age in which Mr. Leland flourish'd.

This rough and unpolith'd Sketch therefore being put down by Mr. Leland only as a Note or Memorandum, we must not from thence make an Estimate of his Skill in these Studies, nor form any Idea, or draw any Conclusion, about the Bigness or Beauty of London either in or before his time. But 'tis certainly an Argument of his Design, and I have preserved the Sketch with the same Religion as I usually do any the most inconsiderable Fragments and Remains of Antiquity that were written by Persons of the same Rank for Learning and Knowledge as Mr. Leland: as I have also two other Sketches that occurr in p. 151. These two last Sketches exhibit some of the Northern Parts of England, and are done with more care than that of London, and are likewise an Argument of what the Author intended with respect to the Description of this Kingdom if he had liv'd to have drawn his Papers and Collections into Method, and to have given that finishing Stroke to them that might have been exspected from such an exquisite Hand, and so skillful an Artist.

Amongst other Notes in this Appendix we have several belonging to Kent, which I think are not different from those that the samous Antiquary Mr. William Lambard a formerly reveiv'd from Mr. Stowe, and were of signal Service to him when he was compiling that exquisite Work of his styl'd The Perambulation of Kent. These Notes have been likewise of great use to some of our other Antiquarians, particularly to the learned Dr. Plot, (who had begun a Natural History of Kent, and propos'd in it to have accounted for the most material Antiquities in that County, as is plain from his MSS. Papers, which sught to be faithfully digested and publish'd by some quality'd Person) and to the Reverend Dr. John Battely, Archdencon of Canterbury, who had procur'd a Part, if not all, of them, and had them constantly in his view when he was composing his Antiquitates Rutupinæ; which Book was publish'd fince his Death from the Theater at Oxford in 800. and as 'lis written in pure Latin, and beautifully printed, so 'twill be an undeniable Proof of his excellent Judgment and Learning, and a lasting Monument of his profound Skill in our most early Antiquities.

In December last I receiv'd a Letter from the Reverend and Learned Dr. White Kennett, Dean of Peterborough, whose Fidelity, and Candour, and Veracity are very conspicuous and well known to the World, concerning a Passage in my Preface to the Fourth Volume of this Work. The Remarks relating to WIL-LIAM of WICKHAM, printed in the Appendix to that Volume, bad given me a just occasion of animadverting in short upon a Note in one of the Volumes of a Book call'd A complete History of England, in which Leland is cited as if he were of opinion that WILLIAM of WICKHAM was a Ba-Some time after I had publish'd that Volume the Dean of Peterborough met with a Copy of it, and was so much disturb'd and concern'd (for reasons best known to himself) about the Passage, that he writ Joon after upon this Subject to one of his Correspondents in Oxford, and at length vouchfaf'd to favour me with a Letter relating to the same Affair, in which he declar'd that he was not the Author, Publisher, or Reviser (nor did I say he was) of that Volume, or of any Note or Line in it. The chief End, it seems, of his writing this Letter was to fet me right in the matter of Fact, that for I might take a proper and publick occasion to correct the great Mistake I have, in his opinion, committed. Now the I have not said he was the Author of the Note, and therefore upon that Account am guilty of no Mistake, yet several virtuous and honest Gentlemen, who are inform'd that he resents and is touch'd at my Words, begin to be of opinion that he was the real Author of, or was at least concern'd in, the Note, and some of them (tho' I do not say that I agree with them) cannot imagin that any Person (much less a Clergyman of Superior Rank) should receive a considerable Gratuity (suppose two Hundred Pounds in Money, and about an Hundred Pounds more with his Friends in Treats) from a Bookseller, for affisting in a Work, and yet not trouble himself, nor give his Direction, in some of the most material Parts of it. Others again say, Suppose he be not (as he declares he is not) either the Author, or Publisher, or Reviser, yet surely he must know the Author, and be acquainted, and often, at least sometimes, converse with him, and we do not doubt but he read the Note soon after 'twas publish'd. How comes it therefore to pale that so great an Admirer, and so strict and religious an Observer of Truth, one that hath so prosound a Respect for the Memory of WILLIAM of WICKHAM, and is withal fuch an Adorer of Mr. Leland, hath not all this time perswaded his Friend (for such they take the Author to be) publickly to correct the Mistake, which is a Piece of Justice due to the World, to WILLIAM of WICKHAM, to the College, and to Mr. Leland? But to let that Matter pass: The Dean desir'd an Answer to his Letter, which accordingly I sent three Days after I received it; in which I told him I would act very honestly in this Matter, and would in my Review signify to the World that he said he was not the Author of the Note, and this I promis'd him to do (if he would give me leave) in his own Words. I have receiv'd no Letter from him since, but sour Days after I return'd my Answer, his Correspondent (above mention'd) call'd upon me in my Chamber, and told me he had receiv'd a Letter from Dr. Kennett, in which was inclos'd a Copy of a Letter he had lately written to me. He did not either then or since shew me the Letter written to himself, but promis'd to shew me the Copy of the Letter written to me as soon as he had receiv'd it back from a Reverend and very Worthy Person living in Oxford, to whom and to one other Gentleman, the Dean had defir'd bim to shew it, and withal to publish it by fixing it in some Copy of the Complete History of England (as it is styl'd) that be should find in one of our OxFORD Libraries. This Gentleman (namely the Dean's Correspondent) being so civil and obliging as to promise me a sight of the Copy, I shew'd him the Original before he left my Room, which he said agreed exactly with the Copy. The above said very Worthy Person being at home that Evening, I waited upon him by my felf, and begg'd that he would favour me with a fight of the Copy. This he readily granted (upon my telling him that I had Leave to see it from the Dean's Correspondent) the he did not let me have it in my own Hands, but read it himself. I found that 'twas a true Copy (written by the Dean's own Hand) and do not remember that any thing was omitted (except the Posticript, in which the Dean begs my Answer) and I easily gather'd that tho' the Dean had not fent his Leave in express Terms to me to publish the Letter, yet that he desir'd it should be publish'd, and that that was one reason of his sending a Copy of it to his Correspondent. I likewise infer'd that 'twas his Opinion he to a land residence of the contract of a grown by description of the state of the state of the state of the state that a speedy Publication would be more agreeable to Justice and Equity, and be of more Satisfaction and Service to him, than to defer it till such time as I should set out my Review; and tis for this reason that I have taken the Liberty of doing it now, by prefixing it to this Volume, together with a true Copy f my Answer.

Upon this occasion I must not omit taking notice that since I publish'd the Fourth Volume of this Itinerary there was communicated to me a Transcript of the Notes about WILLIAM of WICKHAM as 'twas taken from a Copy in the Cotto-nian Library. The Perfor that took and transmitted it is the fame learned and candid Gentleman, whom I was oblig'd out of Gratitude to mention a a little while since for his Opinion concerning the Great Battle that happen'd between Abbington and Oxford, viz. Dr. JOHN THORPE, late of UNI-VERSITY COLLEGE in OXFORD, to the FLOURISHING SOCIETY of which Place I am eternally indebted for the many Favours and Kindnesses they have confer'd upon me, not in the least deserving them, during the Course of some Years, and I am glad I have this Opportunity offer'd to desire that they would accept of my hearty Thanks and Acknowledgments, which is a very poor and mean Return, for them. This Transcript being in some Things different from that which I have publish'ds, I think 'twill be neither improper nor unacceptable to insert it here, that such Readers as are any ways concern'd, or are curious in consulting and examining ancient Records, may compare them both together, and by that means be capable of forming a better Judgment of this Point of History.

From comparing these two Copies together it will be obvious to observe, (1.) That according to the Cottonian MS. (which Dr. Thorpe thinks to have been written soon after Leland's time) Dr. London was the Author of this Report, and that Mr. Leland, provided he be the Author of the Title, and of these two Marginal Notes, All this is not true, and Non Credo, (both which as well as the Title are written in the same Hand with the Report it self) did not give credit to several Particulars here mention'd. (2.) That the Transcriber hath by Mistake written alias William for alias Wikam in the sirst Paragraph, and that Perot the Parish-Clark's Son of Wikam is omitted in the same Paragraph, and that that for it is added doo anno 1404. which again is, without doubt, a Mistake of the Scribe, and perhaps should be either dni anno 1404. er obiit anno 1404. his Death happening Sept. 20th. 1404 a. unless we will rather suppose that it stands to denote the time of bis Birth, and then it must be corrected thus: dni anno 1324. he being born B in that Year (which was the 18th. of K. Reign) at Wickham in Hampshire, from which Place be received his Sir-Name (according to the Gustom of taking Sir-Names from Places, or from Occupations and Professions, or from some other Accidents of that nature) and is more known by it than by the Sir-Name of his Father call'd John Long v. (3.) That the fourth Paragraph, Edward the 3d. &c. is intirely left out, which, it may be, is likewife owing to the Transcriber, and was occasion'd by the next Paragraph's beginning with the same Words. (4.) That the Cottonian MS. reads Surveiver for Surveyor in the fixth Paragraph; in reference to which however Dr. THORPE informs me that he is not certain whether Surveiver ought not to be Surveiver, or Surveyer, the lower Part of the y seeming to be decay'd, and appearing now like a v. (5.) That in the last Paragraph but one 'tis Alice Perers (commonly known by the Name of Alice Pierce) and not Alice Porrers, and a 7. Years for about 7. Years. (6.) W. which fland for Anthony Wood, the Oxford Antiquary, who perus'd most, if not all, of the Books of English Antiquities in this Library, and transcrib'd a great many things from it when he was preparing Materials for his History and Antiquities of the University of OXFORD, and the other Works he bad then in view. I have seen the Same Cipher made use of by him in other Books, and he refers us to this very MS. in his Account of New-College, where he charges Dr. London with Ingratitude and Falsity & which at the Beginning of the Cottonian MS. I have moreover prefix'd to this Volume a short Discourse in Latin about the Saxon Word Ercel, which I formerly drew up at the Suggestion and Motion of the Learned James Tyrrell, Esq; a Gentleman whom I honour for his great Diligence and Skill in our English History; and he certainly deserves well of the Publick upon that Account; the I think he would have deferv'd much better (I must beg his pardon for the Freedom, which, out of a Principle of true Christian Charity, I use with him) if he had retain'd those good and stanch Principles which he feems to have approved of about fifty Years since, when he published and dedicated to King CHARLES II. his Grand-Father Archbishop Usher's excellent Book call'd The Power communicated by God to the Prince, and the Obedience requir'd of the Subject w. Which Book, with the large Preface to it, (written by the most judicious and learned Bishop Sanderson,) is a full Answer to all the corrupt, false, republican and Whiggish Notions advanc'd by him in his Bibliotheca Politica, and in the Volumes he hath printed of English History; and I am perswaded that if his Grand-Father the Archbishop were now living Mr. Tyrrell would receive a very severe Reprimand from him for imbibing and embracing these Notions, which (unless I am very much mistaken) plainly tend not only to the debauching the Minds of the young Nobility and Gentry, but to the beating down the Rights and Prerogatives of the Crown, and fetting up the Power of the People, and consequently to the justifying all the Tumults, Infurrections and Rebellions which have happen'd, or ever shall bappen in this Kingdom. And Men of the best Understanding and most untainted and unblemish'd Integrity, think that 'twill be more for his Credit and Reputation, and bring more Consolation to him when he comes to dye, to write and publish a Book of Retractations than to publish another Volume (tho' it must be acknowledg'd that in his Books, abating the ill Principles and Politions, are many excellent and useful Remarks and Reflections) in prosecution of the same Tenets, or to pretend to defend any Antimonarchial, Republican Opinion that he hath already laid down, (for which, and for any other As-

Articles and in the Homilies, without any of those Exceptions and Evasions which have been Especially such as the Author of a Tract call'd, Priestcraft in Perfection; Or, A Detection of the Fraud of inserting and continuing this Clause (The Church hath Power to Decree Rites and Ceremonys, and Authority in Controversys of Faith) in the Twentieth Article of the Articles of the Church of England. Printed at London for B. Bragg in Pater-noster-Row, 1710. in three Sheets and a Quarter, 8vo. Which virulent and malicious Pamphlet hath been clearly, judiciously, and learnedly answer'd in a Book intitled, A Vindication of the Church of England from the Aspersions of a late LIBEL intitled, Priestcraft in Perfection; &c. Wherein the controverted Clause of the Church's Power in the XXth. Article is shewn to be of equal Authority with all the rest of the Articles; and the Fraud and Forgery, charg'd upon the Glergy on the Account of that Clause, are retorted upon their Accusers. invented by some designing Men; and 'tis pity the Author had not contested Matters with such Persons as these, who would have freely show'd him his Mistakes, and (as becomes true Friends) would have informed him (the one would think he needed no Information) that the Sacredness of this Work requir'd other Topicks than Satyr and Raillery, and that such a Dedication would be against the Rules of Decorum and good Manners, and would be an Affront to the Great Lady to whom he design'd to present the Book, and bring more Disgrace and Reproach upon him, than all his learned Remarks would be ever able to efface and obliterate. But this by the by: and I presume no ingenuous and impartial Person will think that what I have briefly faid in Defence of the just Rights and Prerogatives of the Crown, and in opposition to those who, in order to advance and maintain Republican Principles, firain their Inventions to give a wrong Turn to, and pervert the true Meaning of, our best Historians, and studiously asperse, blacken and defame the Memory of King CHARLES the SECOND, (as others with less Modelty have done that of King CHARLES the FIRST) and vilify and libel the orthodox and loyal Clergy and Laity of that time, is either unfeasonable, or uncharitable, or unbecoming.

The Reader will observe that I have given two Opinions about the Word Excel, which are both left to his better Judgment. I have observed that Chaucer a hath the Word cellent Account of Archb. Parker's MSS. of the XXXIX. Articles in Corpus Christi College Library in Cambridge (which he had formerly carefully consider'd, and which upon his undertaking this Work were review'd for him by an excellent Person, who understands such things perfectly well) and hath given withal such a satisfactory Account of all the other Particlars relating to this Controversy that 'tis look'd upon by equal Judges as a compleat and full Answer; and 'tis heartily wish'd that Copies of this good and useful Book were bought up and lodg'd in all considerable Libraries, that when the same Objections shall be started again hereaster (as they certainly will) by the restless Enemies of this poor, distress'd and afflicted Church, an Answer may be forthcoming, and the Advocates of the Church of England may not be at a loss for Arguments in so momentous an Affair. a See in The Myller's Tale towards the Bnd, where are these Words, as printed in Richard Pynson's curious and

read than server

Grele for a Handle, and it is used in that sense to this Day in some Barts of England; and so in some other Northern Parts of Europe. Tis not unusual to leave out the first Letter, as I could (if necessary) prove from several Instances. So that in this Sense King Ælfred's Ærtel must signify nothing else than curious Bosses and Clasps, which may properly enough be reckon'd amongst Manubria. My other Opinion is that the Word may signify the Cases or Covers of Books, call'd by Tully a Sittybæ, as also by Hesychius. These if finely and curiously wrought might arise to the Sum mention'd by Ælfred.

Not long after the writing of this Discourse I happen'd in a Letter to mention both these Opinions to the Learned Mr. Do D-WELL, who was pleas'd to send me his own Sentiments in the following Words, which I have transcrib'd out of a Letter he writ to me Jul. 7. 1709. As to what you say concerning the Saxon Word Æstel, methinks you had better kept it in one Word, as you say it is in the MS. than to have divided it into two. You may see the Footsteps of that Word in the Name of the admirable Gentlewoman Mrs. Astel. The Saxon Diphthong is E in Edward, and A in Alderman, indifferent to either. And in the excellent Du Cange's Glossay of Latin Words, you will find Astula, or Hastula signify a Chip or Segment of Wood cut off from a greater Piece. He quotes also Adamnanus de locis SS. which we have not and very scarce Edition of the Canterburp Tales from a Copy that was diligently outrien (as he tells us in the Prohempe) and duely examined by the pollitike reason and outright of his worthipful master William Caxton:

Therfore quod Absolon be as he may I shalle it telle the to morow or day And caught the cultre by the colde stele Full softe out of the dore he gan stele And wente &c.

Epp. ad Atticum IV. 5. constructione & sittybis. So Victorius, and the greatest Part of Criticks; and not constructione & si seribis, as 'tis in a MS. very neatly written in Lincoln College Library Oxon. and in several other MSS, as well as in the sirst Editions. That which consirms Victorius's Emendation is the oldest MS. he made use of, in which 'twas corruptly read & sit tibises. Grævius however thinks that sillybis is rather to be read than sittybis.

here, for that way of writing it Afiela, as in Alfrede. I take it therefore for a Segment of Wood indented in the Cover of the Book (whether in the Middle of the Boss, or at the Edg) and of another colour, that might make it taken notice of like the Opus Musicum with Stones. And that the sum of 50. Marks was written in it as the Fine which should be incurred by the Person who should alienate the Book from the Minster, or tear the Asela from the Book. All the Punishments almost of that Age were reduced to Pecuniary Sums, as you may see in Lambardus's Archaenomia. There is a Price set upon the Head of every Sort of Person in the Kingdom, the King himself not excepted.

Thus this excellently learned and judicious Man. What be notes about my dividing the Word is to be understood of my making it to be the same with Chaucer's Stele. I had not consulted Du Cange for the Word when I writ down my Thoughts. 'Tis certain the Word Aftel was anciently a Sir-Name; and fo I find it in William Charitee's Rentale Novum Generale. But in Adamnanus 'tis not Astellæ, as Du Cange insinuates, but Hastellæ, which I take to be nothing but small Spears or Splinters. This Signification is warranted from the Context, which is about the Oak of Mambre or Abraham, and the Author tells a us that Hastellæ were cut out of that Oak. Perhaps they had such a Veneration for the Oak as to make Spears out of it for the Souldiers, thinking that it's Sacredness would have an extraordinary Effect in Military Execution. The Sir-Name Haftell or Aftell might likewise come from Hastella, or Astella, or Hastula; and he that first had the Name might be a Person famous for Actions perform'd by the Spear. Sometimes for Hastella we have Hastilla or Astilla. That is to be attributed to the different Pronunciation of distinct Provinces. E and I I have feen confounded. Hence in some MSS. lis for lex s. Our Orthographical Writers afford other Examples in abundance. I mightily approve of what Mr.

« Lib. II c. II. β For which reason perhaps some may think that lex is to be read for lis in these two old Verses which I have seen ingrav'd upon some ancient Vessels of above 200. Years standing:

Vir ratione bibas, non quod petit atra voluptas. Sic caro casta datur, lis linguæ suppeditatur.

But there is no need for this Correction, nor of another Conjecture, viz, that lis is to be taken here in a qualify'd Sense for DODWELL fays about the Mark's being sut upon the Æftel. I had before guefs'd it ; but then I differ'd in this that I did not take it to be a Mulch, but only to show the Greatness of the King's Benefaction, whose Name I suppose was put upon it alfo. This Note of it's being a Royal Gift might firike a Terthemselves any Method by which to escape if they should prefame either to tear the Æstel from the Book, or convey away both the Book and the Æftel together.

I was the more willing to print this Discourse with Leland, because it belongs to a Piece of Antiquity proper enough to his Defign, who was by his Commission to take an Account of fuch things as were really curious, and he mentions a Book in Capital Letters with some such fort of Work in pag. 136. of the Appendix to this Volume; and 'tis possible that he met with some of King Ælfred's Books with their Æftels, and made short Observations about them, notwithstanding lost since his Death, for innocent Discourse. For suppeditatur here signifies subigitur or sub pede calcatur; which Signification it frequently hears in Writings of middle-ag'd Antiquity, and it plainly shews that the Author of these Verses was of opinion that suppeditare is the same with fub peditare or fub pede dare; which is the opinion also of some others: tho' 'tis generally taken for præbere.

A Letter from the Reverend Dr. White Kennett, Dean of Peter-borough, to the Publisher concerning a Passage in the Preface to the Fourth Volume of this Work.

SIR,

Thank you for the good Service you have done by so well preserving and transmitting to Posterity the Itinerary of Mr. Leland, who was a Faithfull and Candid Writer.

I must beg leave to convince you of one great Mistake in your Presace to the IV. Vol. wherein after a singular way you represent me to be the certain Author, who put it down for Truth, that William of Wickham was a Bastard. You refer to the Notes on the Life of Hen. IV. in the sirst of the three Volumes of A Complete History of England. And upon that supposition of my writing that Note, you inlarge in Words that are at best uncharitable and unbecoming. But I would only set you right in the Matter of Fact, that you may take a proper and public occasion to correct the Mistake of it, a Justice, Sir, due to the World, if not to me.

I do affure you I was not the Author, Publisher or Revisor of that Volume, or of any Note or Line in it; as any one of the Booksellers could have inform'd you, if you had inquir'd after Truth, and avoided avoided that Party where it is feldom to be found. I do again forgive the hard and false Reflections you have made upon me without any Cause but my having been formerly your Friend, and shall only re-commend you to Truth and Charity as the best Guid to your Labours, which I pray God to prosper.

REVEREND SIR, was some swing fliw lov hi) ob

ON Sunday Night last I receiv'd a Letter from you concerning some Words in my Preface to the IVth. Volume of Mr. Leland's Itinerary.

I do not in that place say that you are the Author of the Note in the Complete History of England (as 'tis call'd) which makes William of Wickham to be a Bastard. On the contrary I rather infinuate from a Passage in your Life of Somner that 'tis not likely you should be the Author.

I never took the Church of England to be a Party; and therefore if I espouse the Doctrines She maintains (as I hope I shall always do) and happen to write any thing in behalf of Her, or of any of Her Friends, I think 'twill be very improper (not to fay uncharitable) to censure me as striking in with, or writing on purpose to serve, a Party. And whereas you add a Party. where Truth is seldom to be found; I must own to you that I think there is more Truth on the Side you have left, and now call a Party, than on the other to which all the Diffenters are joyn'd and link'd in Interest. And withal, Sir, I will take the liberty of declaring to you, that I am in all respects so far from being partial, that as no Favours or Kindnesses have mov'd me hitherto to write any thing contrary to Justice, Truth and Conscience, so I am resolv'd for the future (and I hope God will bless my Resolution) to keep strictly and religiously to the same Principles, and to be drawn from them by no Secular Confiderations whatfoever.

I will deal very honestly in the Affair that hath occasion dyour Letter, and I will in my Review signify to the World that you say you are not the Author of the Note about William of Wickham; and this I will do (if you will give me leave) in your own Words.

I shall always have a due Sense of Gratitude for the kind and friendly Offices you formerly did for me; and upon that account I subscribe my self, maynethe to this pore Towne.

There was a fayre Castle in the Southe-West End of the Towne on the left Hand or Ripe of the Riveret. and Hille where it stode is yet evidently sene, and berithe the Name of the CastleHill; but there is not sene any Peace of a Waull stondinge.

There ly 2. praty smaul low Medowes hard by West of this Castle Hille, and beare the Name of the Fische Weeres: and a great likelyhode there is that they were fometyme Fishe Pooles.

Divers Rowes of Howfynge hathe bene about the Quarters of the Castle now clene doune.

There were 3. goodly Crossis of Stone in the Towne, one by Southe at the End of the Towne, throwne doune a late by Theves that fought for Treaswre.

A nother at the West End of Seint James Churche.

The third very antique, faire and costly in the inward parte of the Highe Streate. Ther be dyvers Tabernacles in Fol. 17. this with Ladies and Men armyd. Sum fay that the Staplears of the Towne made this: but I thinke rathar sume Noble Man Lorde of the Towne.

There is a Churche as a Chaple of Ease of Seint James in the Southe nd of the Towne, an old pece of Worke, and on the Southe Syde of the Chaunsell of it is a faire Chapell or Isle, and there be in the Wyndow Sydes in Stone Imagis beringe Woll Sakks in theyr Hands, in token that it was of the Stapelers Makyng.

There Vol. 7.

Fol. 12.

There is in the Midle of the Towne a Churche of Seint James and S. John, somtime a College and an Almose House or Hospitale. This was suppresslyd and gyven to S. Magdalenes College with Lands.

There ly buryed in Tumbes dyvers Noble Men and Women in the Presbitery of this Churche: first 2. Noble Men in one Tombe havynge in theyr. Shelds a Lyon Rampant and Flures de Luce.

There lyeth on the Southe Syde in the Wall a Noble Man havynge in a Feld of Gules 10. Befants of Gold.

And at his Feete lyethe a nother havynge in his Sheld a Lion Rampant.

Ther lyethe also Robart Holand that dyed in Anno Dni 1373. Mawd his Wyse lyethe there also.

Ther lyeth a Noble Man and his Wyfe. He berithe in his Shild Varre Gold and Gules.

One told me that of late Dayes one of the Lordes Lovells was taken for Foundar there, and that by his Graunt it cam in Gyft to Magdalene Coledge.

The Churche of Seynt Petere, beinge the chefe Churche of the Towne and Mothar Churche of the hole Denery of Brakeley, is in the Est Syde of the Towne. I saw no Tumbe or great Antiquiti in it.

In the Churche Yarde lyethe an Image of a Priest revestid; the whiche was Vicar of a Barkeley, and there buried quike by the Tyranny of a Lord of the Towne for a Displeasure that he tooke with hym for an Horse taken, as some say, for a Mortuarie. But the Lord, as it is there sayde, went to Rome for Absolution, and toke greate Repentauns.

The Parsonage of S. Petars was impropriate to the Abbey of Leircestar, and there was a Vicar endowid.

There be 2. faire Springs, or Wells, a litle West North West from S. Peter's Churche. The one of them is caullyd S. Rumoaldes Welle, wher they say, that with in a sewe Dayes of his Birth he prechid. The other is caullyd Welle. There issuithe a very litle Streamelet out of eche of them being not the Cast of a Coyte distant, and straite cum to one Streamelet, not so abundaunt of Watar as it hathe bene. For the Sayenge is that it hath driven in tymes past a Cutlers Myll thereby.

Fol. 13.

There is also a faire Springe in the Highe Streate of the

Towne, and out of it issuith a litle Pirle,

The Lord Lovell was in Kynge Richard the third's Dayes Lord of Brakeley, and by his Land beinge attaintyd by Henry the 7. this Lordshipe, and also halfe therby was given to Standeley Erle of Darby, or to his Sune.

The Ryver of Ise, or Use, that rennith at the South Ende of Brakeley risithe a litle above Stene, wher the Lord Sannes hathe a Maner Place, sumtyme the Lord Morleys, beinge a

There was one Faritius a Straunger and Phisician made Abbate of Abbendune a certeyne tyme after the Conqueste. He remevyd the olde Churche that stode then more Northerlye where now the Orchard is, and made the Este Parte and Transepte of a new only adorninge it with small Marble Pillers. Anon after cam an Abbate, and seynge the Howse not sufficiently served withe Water, devised to turne the Streme of Iss, and at the last brought it on to the very Abbay Syde, and partely thrughe it. The chefe Streme of Iss rane afore betwixt Andersey Isle and Culneham, even where now the Southe End is of Culneham.

The othar Arme that brekethe oute of Isis aboute a Quater of a Mile above Culneham, and then cummithe downe thoroughe Culneham Bridge selfe, is now the lesse Peace of the hole River. In greate Flods and Brakkes of Water Waulls Culneham Water goith partely to the old Botom of Isis, and then ther be 3. Stremes. There was of olde tyme a Fortres or Pile lyke a Castle in Andersey by South West of Abbandune sett as almoste in the mydle betwixte the olde and new Botom of Isis. Abbingdoun Monasterye upon a Ple for Fraunchese was spoyled by Men of Abbandun, of Newbiry, and of Oxforde; for the whiche great Punishement was taken.

Ther was a Parke at Radeley longinge onto Abbyndoun, whiche was disparked by reason that the Scollars of Oxford muche refortyd thethar to hunt.

The chefe Paroche Churche of Abbyngdon of old tyme was Saint Nieholas by thabbey. The Abbat of Abendoun made the Hospitall of S. John Baptiste agayne it. This Hospitall hathe bene annexid to S. Nicholas. Ther be 12. Men in this Hospitall.

Seint Helens is now a Paroche Churche, and to it is the gretyst Resorte of all the Towne.

At suche tyme as the olde Course of the Streme of Isis was changed there were found dyvers straunge thyngs, and amonge them a Crosse with an Inscription. The Nunnrye stode in the very Place where now the Hospitall is at S. Helines.

Of auncient tyme there was no Bridge to passe over Iss at Abbandune, but a Ferie, and then was the way from Glocester to London not thorough Abbendune as it is now, and so to Dorchestar, but thorough the notable Towne of Wallengforde. Ther were dyvers Mischauncis sene at this Passege.

Anno 4. Henrici 5. pontes de Bordforde & Culhamforde 1416 prope Abbandune & incepti sunt autore rege anno Dom. 1416.

Tho' King a incepti sunt autore rege anno Dom. 1416.] Henry the Vth. is here faid to be the Founder not only of Burford, but of Culham, Bridge, yet this is to be understood only by way of Complement, and 'tis grounded only upon the Liberty given by him for building the Bridges, and upon some other small Privileges that he allow'd at this time. For 'tis certain that John of St. Helen's * was the first beginner of Burford Bridge, to the Maintenance of which and of the Hospital of St. Helen's that he had founded, he left an Estate in Land of 50. Pounds a Year, which Estate (I suppose) now belongs (at least it ought to belong) to the present Hospital, call'd Christ's Hospital, that was built by K. Edward the Sixth and Sir John Majon. And 'tis withal as certain that Geffry Barbour was the principal Founder of Culham Bridge, towards which, and to the finishing of Burford Bridge, and to the making of the fine Causey between both Bridges he gave a 1000. Marks, which was punctually laid out upon this Work. The best Artists that could be found were imploy'd, and every Man had a Penny a Day, which was the best Wages, and an extraordinary Price in those Times, when the best Wheat was now and then I fold for twelve Pence a Quarter. 'Twas likewise in those Times that in the Feasts of the Fraternity of the Holy-Cross in Abbington they spent yearly fix Calfs, which cost two Shillings and two Pence a Piece, fixteen Lambs at twelve Pence a Piece, above four score Capons at three Pence a Piece, above four score Geese at two Pence half Penny a Piece, eight Hundred Eggs at five Pence a Hundred; besides many Marrow Bones, much Fruit and Spice, and a great quantity of Milk, Cream and Flour, all in proportion too to the Prices that I have specify'd: and upon these Days of Rejoycing withal they us'd to have twelve

* See Part the first of this Vol. Fol. 14. ‡ See pag. 22, of a certain Leiger Book, now lying in the Hall of Christ's Hospital at Abbington, intitled A Monument of Christian Munispeence, written in the Year 1627. by Francis Little, sometime Mayor of Abbington, and one of the Governours of this Hospital. In which Book (written with no great Judgment) is a short Account of the Monastery of Abbington, of the Hospital of the Fraternity of the Holy-Cross, and of divers other things relating to this Place.

Minstrels, viz. fix from Coventry and fix from Maidenhead, for which and for other uses of the Fraternity William Dyar, Vicar of Bray in Berks, gave them five Tenements in East St. Helen's Street, three Tenements in West St. Helen's Street, and other Lands in Abbington. So that confidering the cheapness of Things in those Times, Geffry Barbour's Contribution was very great and extraordinary, and 'tis nothing but Justice to style him the Founder of the Bridge, the Stones whereof, as well as those of Burford Bridge, were taken out of the Quarries of Bessilsieigh and Stanford, and were given them by Sir Peter Bessils, who moreover, besides the Money he gave for carrying on the building of the Bridges, by his last Will and Testament, dated Octob. 23. 1424. gave all his Lands, Tenements and Reversions in Abbington to-wards the perpetual Maintenance and Repair of them. Besides Geffry Barbour's Benefaction to this Work, he was likewise so great a Benefactor to the Hospital of St. Helen, that some look upon him now, as they did even in Mr. Leland's Time, to have been the chief Founder of it. He was also in other respects a very great Friend to this Town, and did so much good in the Place, that he is always mention'd by the Inhabitants with the most profound Respect. He was first of all buried in the Abbey Church; but upon the Dissolution he was translated from thence in the most solemn manner to St. Helen's Church, where I have seen his Grave-stone, and find the following Inscription upon it: Hic jacet Galfridus Barbour, Mercator de Abendon, quondam Balivus Bristoliæ, qui obiit vicesimo primo die Aprilis anno Domini 1417. Cujus animæ propitietur Deus. 'Tis this great Respect which the Inhabitants of the Town have for him that hath prevented the Destruction of the Brass-Plate upon which the Inscription is ingrav'd. Other old Monuments have been defac'd and utterly destroy'd by Puritans, Presbyterians, and the rest of the whining Crew, purely out of a vain, idle Conceit, that the Memory of no Roman Catholicks ought to be preserv'd. This Town hath been famous for Fanaticks, and 'tis no wonder that there is so little of such kind of Antiquities remaining amongst them; and yet these Principles have not prevail'd so far upon them as to erase out of their Minds the Honour that is due to Geffry Barbour; which, perhaps, may be owing, in some measure, to this, that they do not believe him to have been a rigorous Roman Catholick, Vol. 7.

but rather an Enemy to the Pope. We cannot conceive what rejoycing there was upon the finishing of Culham Bridge, not only because a stop was put by this means to the Mischiefs which us'd to happen in ferrying over the Water, but also because it conduc'd very much to the inriching of the Town by influencing Travellers in their Way from Gloucester to London to pass through it, and not through Walingford as they had been accustom'd to do. 'tis to be noted that 'twas nothing else but a sense of the many Benefits that accru'd from hence to this Place that occasion'd Mr. Richard Fannand Iron-Monger in the Year 1457. (being the 36. Year of the Reign of K. Hen. VI.) to put up a Table in the Hall of St. Helen's Hospital in Memory of Geffry Barbour, &c. in which we have an exact, tho' rude and barbarous, Description of the proceedings in Building of Culbam Bridge, together with fome Latin Verses at the beginning (in which K. Henry the V. is mention'd as the Founder of both Bridges) and the Rebus of Abbington at the end, (which differs somewhat from that in Dr. Plot's Letter a.) 'Tis this Table that is here cited by Mr. Leland, and 'tis' now hanging in the Hall of the present Hospital, but being like to come to decay in some time, I shall here beg leave to transcribe and publish it, that Posterity may know to whom it is that they are chiefly indebted for the Benefits that follow'd from the Foundation of Culbam Bridge.

This Castle was made in Henry the first Dayes by one Rogar Bysshope of Salisbyrye, Chaunselar and Treaswrar to the Kynge. Suche a Pece of Castle Worke so costly and strongly was nevar afore nor sence set up by any Bysshope of England. The Kepe or Dungeon of it set upon an Hille cast by hand is a Peace of Worke of an incredible Coste. There appere in the gate of it 6. or 7. Placis for Porte colacis, and muche goodly Buyldyng was in it. It is now in Ruine, and Parte of the Front of the Towres of the Gate of the Kepe and the Chapell in it were caried full unprofitably onto Fol. 67. a. the Buyldynge of Mastar Bainton's Place at Bromeham scant

But this Word ys not sufficient to prove that Dovar showld be that Place, the which the Romaynes cawlled portus Rutupi or Rutupinum. For I can not yet le the contrary but Ratesboro, otherwise cawled Richeboro by Sandwich, both ways corruptly, must neades be Rutupinum. The mayne, strong, and famose Castel of Dovar flondeth on the Toppe of a Hille almost a Quarter of a Myle of fro the Towne on the lyft Side, and withyn the Castel is a Chapel, yn the Sides wherof appere fum greate Briton Brykes. In the Town was a great Priory of Blake Monkes Ther is also an Hospitalle cawlled the Mealate suppressed. fon dew. On the Toppe of the hye Clive betwene the Towne and the Peere remayneth yet abowt a flyte Shot up ynto the Land fro the very Brymme of the Se Clyffe a Ruine of a Towr, the which hath bene as a Pharos or a Mark to Shyppes on the Se. and therby was a Place of Templarys. As concernyng the River of Dovar it hath no long Cowrse from no Spring or Hedde notable that descendith to that Botom. The principal Hed, as they fay, is at a Place cawled Ewwelle, and that is not past a iii. or iiii. Myles fro Dovar. Ther be Springes of frech Waters also at a Place cawled Ri-Ther is also a great Spring at a Place cawlled and that ones in a vi. or vii.
